

We are very pleased to inform you that before leaving Milan for a new and exotic destination David Fryatt has kindly agreed to offer teachers another of his very much appreciated seminars:

TS Eliot: “Genuine poetry can communicate before it is understood”

Few poets have had such a dramatic effect on the development of verse as T S Eliot. A defining figure in the emergence of modern poetry, his influence is still felt today.

This session will look at the context, both literary and historical, in which his poetry was created, the innovations he contributed to literature and will examine several of his key works.

David Fryatt, British Council, Milan

ON

Thursday 2nd July at 4.00pm

AT

BRITISH COUNCIL, Via Manzoni 38, 20121 Milano

This seminar is free of charge. As places are limited, the ‘first-come, first-served’ principle will be applied

British Council, Ente accreditato dal MPI per la formazione del personale della scuola con DM 90/2003, art 1, comma 2